

Please leave the "NO CALL" legislation as it is. It is wonderful to have peace at home again. And older people get very confused and are often signed up for services and products they don't need by fast talking sales people. My mother-in-law was in an assisted living home and was constantly getting these calls and then billed for subscriptions, slammed for phone services and we were left with time consuming call backs to straighten it all out. So in addition to our own annoying phone calls we had to deal with the repercussions of hers. I would not like to see the current law repealed or changed. In fact, I would like it strengthened by adding a reminder clause so that when the 5 year time is up we get a call or an email saying it is time to continue the no call policy for my phone number. Thanks for your consideration.
